

kind, that must be investigated by this kind of an investigator, and the results that flow therefrom."

Carl A. Swenson, another defense counsel, said that the shooting resulted from a mingling of fear and desire to gain time, and was an instinctive action, a combination of self-defense, self-advantage, accident, or what have you.

Helping Enforce Law.

"Bayer felt he was doing no wrong, but was helping the authorities close up the liquor traffic," said Swenson. "We are all just as guilty. The state's attorney sends out men to investigate the liquor laws. Let him tell you if they are properly deputized. This might have happened in Rockford by a man hired by the state's attorney here. It is a situation arising from the law that a man morally clothed with authority is sent out to investigate the sale of liquor. Are you to condemn him for that act alone?"

"This sort of investigator is a necessary evil under the system in Illinois. He might be guilty under the strict law, but sometimes we have to go to higher courts. He is like a spy in war time. Experience shows that this act can be enforced in no other way. Men not known must gather evidence. A dangerous man was selling bootleg liquor. That's the reason for all this. In his youth the defendant may have over reached himself, that's all."

The state's attorney argued that all this prejudicial talk about liquor enforcement was a blind; that the defense could not face the real fact.

Calls Facts Undisputed.

"Most of the facts are undisputed," he said. "We are not hazy on the Illinois prohibition law, or its national aspects. It is not a question whether Petroff sold intoxicating liquor. There is only one thing to be proved—there was justification for the shooting."

"Bayer purposely dropped a dime after he bought the liquor, so that he could lean over and get out his gun unobserved. Petroff reached out to grab the glasses. He was shot and died to death, his pleas for help unheard. This man went into that place with an automatic pistol without authority."

"He had no right to carry a revolver or arrest anyone. The facts and the law show he is guilty of murder. He went into that place with evidence and to shoot his way out if necessary. There is no self-defense plea tenable. He showed he had murder in his heart when he went away, leaving Petroff bleeding to death."

"The laws of Missouri come before the eighteenth amendment—'thou shalt not kill' is the strongest of all."

"There is no place in Illinois law where it says you can kill a bootlegger. I can hear William Petroff on that day, calling, calling for help. He had right to life, even though he was a bootlegger. No self-constituted sleuth from Wisconsin had a right to enter his place and kill him. He should vote guilty as charged in the indictment."

WOMAN, 59, NOW CONVICTED NINTH TIME AS BURGLAR

CRIMINAL RECORD.
Andrew Jackson, burglar, sentenced to 1 year in the Reformatory by Judge Otto Korf.

Mrs. Nellie Hantz, 59, who has spent 16 of her last 20 years in prison, was given a 3 months sentence yesterday by Judge Emanuel Miller in the Criminal court.

This makes her ninth conviction for burglary. Several weeks ago she was caught in the home of Pasquale Luce, 118 West Grand avenue.

Mrs. Hantz told the judge liquor is responsible for her troubles and begged for another chance, which was refused in view of her past record.

Chicagoan Goes Insane at Syracuse; Jumps to Death

Syracuse, N. Y., Feb. 1.—[Special.]—Lee Farrell, 37, 6212 Drexel avenue, Chicago, became suddenly crazed while talking with his lawyer, Francis J. Lynch, and District Attorney Clarence Uncles in the latter's office this afternoon, struck Lynch on the head with an inkwell and then jumped through the fourth story window. He died in a hospital later.

He Was a Prince Abroad, but Only a Husband in U. S.

Santa Monica, Cal., Feb. 1.—[Special.]—In Europe, David Milvian claims the title of Georgian prince, but when arrested here on a speeding charge yesterday, he gave his occupation as "husband." Milvian, who is 28 years old, is the husband of Miss Murray, film star.

Divorce Granted Wife of Former Illinois Grid Star

A divorce yesterday ended the campus romance of Mrs. Jean Ray McElwain, 311 Jackson avenue, Evanston, and Wallace Wesley McElwain, with whom she eloped in 1924 while both were attending the University of Illinois. The wife, a daughter of an International Harvester company official, charged her husband, a former U. of I. football player, with cruelty. She was represented by Attorney A. Wayne Clements, who waived alimony. The suit was not contested.

TWO DRYS AGREE ENFORCEMENT IS MATTER OF TIME

Jane Addams and Bishop Hughes Give Views.

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.

Prohibition is with us, but enforcement is not. The present status of the administration of the eighteenth amendment leaves so much to be desired that years may pass before America is actually, and not merely nominally, a dry country.

"That identity of opinion was expressed yesterday in Chicago at two different gatherings of the proponents of prohibition, by two of the city's distinguished dry—Miss Jane Addams of Hull House, and Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes of the Methodist Episcopal church."

Miss Addams was the speaker at the morning meeting of the prohibition law enforcement committee of the Chicago Woman's club. Bishop Hughes was the main speaker at the closing session of W. C. T. U. members from six states in the Hotel La Salle. He addressed more than 500 women who attended a luncheon meeting there yesterday afternoon.

Under the topic, "What Prohibition Has Done for Chicago," Miss Addams presented in detail the information she gathered in the Hull House district as a part of a social service survey.

Economically, the substance of her report showed, the population of her district has benefited in many ways since the adoption of the eighteenth amendment. The standard of living has gone up, and families have numerous comforts and even luxuries they did not have dreamed of possessing in the days of the saloon.

"There is always a great danger, however," she pointed out, "in attributing these radical changes to any one agency. For instance, it is hard, almost impossible, to distinguish how much of the improvement is due to the prohibition law and how much to other factors."

From 1920 to 1927, however, there was a decided retrogression. It was during that period that bootlegging and hijacking developed.

"The present prohibition situation is much like that of the abolition of slavery in the south just after the civil war. Southern people did not believe slavery should be abolished and it took three generations to prove how much better off they were without it. It is quite possible it may take three generations or more to prove to this large proportion of such changes that prohibition was better off we are without liquor."

Conditions Bad, Bishop Says.

Bishop Hughes echoed these sentiments in his address, although he was unaware of Miss Addams' talk or her topic.

"Frankness," he asserted, "compels us to admit that the situation today is far from being what we would desire. We would be like ceteriches, hiding our heads in the sand if we did not admit that conditions are certainly very bad."

A resolution introduced by the national president of the W. C. T. U., Mrs. Ella A. Boole, demanding that the major political parties at their coming conventions insert a dry plank in their party platforms was adopted unanimously at the W. C. T. U. conference.

Chicagoan's Adroit Answers Balk Walsh in Investigation of $50,000,000 Oil Deal

Washington, D. C., Feb. 1.—[Special.]—Senator Thomas J. Walsh (Dem., Mont.), master cross-examiner for the senate's Teapot Dome investigating committee, met a master witness today in Edward G. Seubert of Chicago, president of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

Seubert, calm and unflinching, parried questions with evasive or noncommittal answers and the result was that the senator obtained little new information about the mysterious $50,000,000 Continental Trading company, Ltd., deal.

Leads Deal to Stewart.

Dodge as he would, however, Seubert was led step by step to build up Senator Walsh's contention that Robert W. Stewart, also of Chicago, chairman of the Standard Oil Company, had been the master of the deal.

Out of the profits of the deal, $23,000 in Liberty bonds were passed to Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, by Sinclair soon after the latter's Mammoth Oil company obtained a lease on the navy's Teapot Dome oil reserve and the committee is seeking to trace the remainder of the proceeds.

Stewart, Sinclair and A. L. Carlson, secretary-treasurer of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil company, guaranteed the ability of the Continental Trading company, an alleged "fake" Canadian concern, to fulfill its contract to purchase 25,000 barrels of crude oil from the Humphreys-Mexia company of Texas, at $1.50 a barrel.

On the same day, the Continental company resold the oil at $1.75 a barrel to the Sinclair Consolidated Oil company and the Sinclair Oil and Gas company, and went out of business.

Memory Remains Faulty.

Carlson, whose almost complete lack of memory of any details of the Continental transaction was characterized yesterday by Senator Walsh as "amazing," that it aroused the committee's suspicions, preceded Seubert on the stand, but in spite of the senator's probing his memory remained as faulty as ever.

"When you signed that contract obligating your company to guarantee a $50,000,000 deal, what did you know about the Continental company?" Carlson was asked by Senator Walsh.

"Nothing," admitted Carlson. "I walked into your office and asked you to guarantee a $50,000,000 deal for me, would I get it?"

"I think you will find," answered Carlson, "that we had the Continental guaranteed by the chairman of the boards of the other companies and evidently it was satisfactory to them."

Carlson admitted that subsequently the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company and the Prairie Oil and Gas company purchased the Continental company's contract with the Humphreys-Mexia company for $400,000, but was unable to explain how the Continental was willing to sell a contract potentially worth $5,000,000 or more for such a sum.

Seubert Begins Testimony.

Then came Mr. Seubert, who described briefly his service with the Standard Oil Company of Indiana since 1891 in various capacities until he became president in March in 1927. He asserted he has never met H. H. Oiler, nominal president of the now defunct Continental company and questioned the truth of a federal trade commission report that Oiler acted for the Standard company in the acquisition of the redoubt Sinclair company.

"Now what do you mean by saying, 'tentative contract'?" demanded Senator Walsh. "That contract had already been signed had it not?"

"Not by the officers or directors of the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company," answered Seubert.

"Well, it had been signed 'for the directors' by both Stewart and Sinclair, had it not?" asked Senator Walsh.

"Yes," admitted Seubert.

"Take it or leave it."

"Well, what do you mean by saying the directors could take it or leave it?" demanded the senator.

"Just that," answered Seubert and that subject was dropped.

Seubert declared that some of the directors questioned the necessity of paying $1.75 a barrel for all that had been bought at the same day by the seller for $1.50 a barrel but that they were satisfied with Mr. Stewart's explanation that the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company had not been offered the oil for the lower price.

"We had the utmost confidence in Mr. Stewart and believed he was giving us the facts," declared Seubert when Senator Walsh pressed him to know why the directors had not insisted on knowing more of the details of the transaction.

Seubert Knew of Profit.

"It must have occurred to you that somebody in the Continental was pretty shrewd to cut Mr. Stewart out of 25 cents a barrel, didn't it?" asked Senator Walsh.

"I knew somebody was getting 25 cents a barrel," admitted Seubert.

"Here's a company you never heard of before cutting Stewart out of 25 cents a barrel. Not a very good recommendation for your chairman, is it?" asked Senator Walsh.

"I consider Col. Stewart an excellent trader," asserted Seubert.

"O, we all do," retorted Senator Walsh, dryly. "You are excused."

Dawes to Take Stand.

Benjamin G. Dawes, president of the Pure Oil company and brother of Vice President Dawes, is to be a witness tomorrow. Mr. Dawes was present in the conference which resulted in the Continental contract and at the same time settled with the Humphreys interest that his company would take the balance of the Mexico production at $1.50 a barrel.

RUTH M'CORMICK URGES WOMEN TO THINK POLITICS

Women are not taking the proper advantage of their power to vote, Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, Republican candidate for congressman at large, told members of the Women's Association of Commerce at the Bismarck hotel last night. She urged them to "take more interest in politics, particularly party politics."

"Think politics," Mrs. McCormick told the women, "make your vote count."

Then she said she was afraid if some of the women workers for woman suffrage could see the result of the laborers they would be "sadly discouraged."

"I know that I could never go into it with the fervor that I once had," she added. "The old enthusiasm has disappeared. We thought that women wanted to vote, that is what buoyed us up through our hardships. We find that women, as well as men, are voting less and less each year."

BRING ELOPING CO-ED BACK TO AURORA TODAY

Marjorie Anderson, 17, who ran away from Aurora college with Harold Stephen Dodge, 16, last Saturday, will return to Aurora tonight from Memphis, Tenn., in custody of Dr. R. O. Jenks, president of the college. Dodge was turned over to the Memphis juvenile authorities pending communication with his family in Oakland, Cal.

Dodge told the police that Miss Anderson wanted to run away because she had an idea she was a burden to her foster parents. They were going to Galveston, he said, where the girl, who is a musician, expected to find employment in a conservatory, while he completed his education.

NEGRO RESCUED AFTER DRIFTING 700 MILES AT SEA

New York, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Jim Bethel, 26-year-old Negro, saved after drifting 700 miles at sea in an open boat, was preparing to return home to Florida today.

Bethel left West Palm Beach on Jan. 17 to take a gasoline launch back to its owner at Hollywood, 84 miles away. About half way the engine "broke" and as there were no cars there was nothing to do but drift.

From the very first day sharks trailed the launch.

On the tenth night he attracted the attention of the steamer Pinar Del Rio of the American-Cuban Steamship line and was taken aboard, arriving here Sunday. He was detained at Ellis Island for a while, but today arrangements for his return home were being made by the Salvation Army. The trip home will be made by train.

Bethel's only sustenance during his ten days adrift was two tins of sardines, two cans of tomatoes, and a four-gallon jug of water.

LAWYERS ATTACK ANTI-PARKING LAW AS INVALID

Tell Judge Hebel the City Exceeds Its Powers.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The opponents of the no parking ordinance had their first day in court yesterday. They argued all day before Superior Judge Hebel that the ordinance is illegal. They asked a temporary injunction against its enforcement.

Leo F. Wormser, attorney for some Michigan avenue firms located between Randolph street and Wacker drive, characterized the ordinance as "an unreasonable exercise of a doubtful power."

"This ordinance is paralyzing the use of the streets," he added. "The city has the power to regulate street traffic, not to prohibit it. The city is without the power to do what it has pretended to do by this ordinance. The city has only such power as has been conferred on it by the state. It has the power it purports to exercise."

Says It Would Halt Deliveries.

"This ordinance prohibits a vehicle standing in the loop between 7 a. m. and 6:30 p. m. If this ordinance means what it says, a delivery wagon or a truck cannot stop to deliver or take up goods because it says a vehicle cannot stand in the prohibited territory. But the proponents of the ordinance may say that the delivery of coal, ice, milk, and other commodities is not prevented by the ordinance. That it says, delivery cars and trucks are permitted to stand in the prohibited area."

"It follows necessarily that authority has been conferred on the police to determine how long a delivery car or truck may stand. That delegation of legislation to the police is void and the ordinance is invalid."

Charges Some Get Favors.

"Your honor must take judicial notice of facts which cannot escape his notice in entering and leaving the court house. Delivery wagons and trucks can be seen standing around this building. It appears that owners of passenger cars appreciate that some one has been designated to say who shall violate the ordinance, because there are passenger cars which have been labeled 'delivery cars.'"

Numerous court decisions were presented to support Mr. Wormser's argument.

Attorney William McKinley represented the Old Colony Life Insurance building, 166 West Jackson boulevard, and its tenants.

"After this case is disposed of," he said, "we next can expect a petition for a writ of mandamus to compel the enforcement of the ordinance against all delivery cars and trucks."

Charges Federal Law Breach.

"I later shall present an amendment to our bill," declared Charles N. Goodnow, one of the attorneys for Samuel Panceo, who is seeking to enforce the ordinance. "charging that this ordinance interferes with interstate commerce." Mr. Goodnow said a man from St. Louis drove his car to Chicago and was prevented from leaving his car at the curb while he inquired whether he could get a room in a loop hotel.

"The property owner is entitled to ingress and egress from his building," Mr. Goodnow, a former judge, continued. "A denial of that right, which

CAPT. BASS COURT MARTIAL SESSION HELD IN SECRET

War-time secrecy yesterday supplanted the public hearings in the court martial proceedings against Capt. J. Leland Bass, Quartermaster corps, on the charge of irregularities in handling liquor in the army warehouse.

The military court of eleven officers convened at 9:30 and promptly ordered the courtroom cleared. At 10:15 the court admitted Capt. Bass and his counsel and the trial judge advocate, Maj. Donald B. Sanger and Lieut. Merill D. Mann, associate trial judge advocate.

The secret session lasted until noon, when orderlies announced that open session would be held. The court sat busily for ten minutes while hearing arguments on a motion to strike from the record certain testimony and then retired to private rooms until adjournment time.

During the brief argument in the public session on the motion to strike testimony given by Assistant United States District Attorney Jacob I. Grossman on Tuesday, the name of Capt. Roy Davis of the 202d coast artillery, National Guard organization, stationed at the Broadway armory, was frequently mentioned. Maj. Donald B. Sanger intimated that Capt. Davis might have considerable information about a shipment of twenty drums of alcohol to the Broadway armory.

"We do not call Capt. Davis to the witness stand," Maj. Sanger replied to a question by Attorney Egbert Robertson, civilian defense counsel, as to why, if Capt. Davis was believed to know of the alcohol shipment, he was not called as a witness. "because we can prove that Davis has made three conflicting statements under oath."

Capt. Bass is expected to resume the witness stand today and continue his general denial of any wrongdoing as charged in the specifications.

this ordinance does, confiscates the property of the owner. It therefore violates the federal constitution."

Charles Hurwitz, another attorney for Mr. Panceo, who is a stationer, took a fling at Mayor Thompson, saying: "The proponents of the ordinance have proclaimed that you cannot make a stable of the king's highway. That's funny. I thought we had got rid of that king stuff in Chicago."

Assistant Corporation Counsel Edward C. Higgins started the city's legal arguments in favor of the ordinance. He said the city had the power to pass the ordinance as a reasonable traffic regulation.

John G. Drennan, another assistant corporation counsel, probably will make his argument this morning.

Other lawyers upholding the ordinance are John A. Maasen, representing the council traffic committee; Charles Scribner Eaton of the Chicago Exchange, J. P. Williams of the Chicago Surface Lines, and B. B. Vedder, for the Association of Commerce. Mr. Vedder asks only a fair trial of the loop anti-parking law for 90 days, unless it can be shown that ordinance is causing the loss of money to business. In that case Mr. Vedder desires that the ordinance be modified. No testimony whatever on the effects of the ordinance was taken yesterday, the lawyers confining their activity to arguments on legality.

SCRAMBLE FOR DELEGATES ON IN G. O. P. CAMPS

Lowden and Hoover Aids Warm Up Campaign.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] Washington, D. C., Feb. 1.—[Special.]—The 1928 presidential campaign is beginning to warm up at last. Lowden and Hoover have gone to the mat in the contest for the Republican nomination and the fur is beginning to fly. On the Democratic side, Jins Reed of Missouri has flung off his coat and jumped into the scramble for delegates, making a special drive for the support of southern and western elements of the party opposed to Al Smith.

With headquarters opening in Washington and Missouri, Senator Reed is about to launch forth upon a speaking tour of the south and west. The senator is a wet, but not braying about it any more. His speeches now give forth a dry, hollow sound. Wherefore, it is surmised that the senator envisions a moment in the Democratic national convention at Houston when the dry southern and western Democrats will turn to the Al Smith wets and say: "Let's compromise on Jim."

Smith Men Aren't Worried.

This is not worrying the Al Smith crowd perceptibly. The partisans of the New York governor are only hoping that Reed will round up delegates he can deliver, for they expect him and his supporters listed in the Al Smith column before the last ballot in the convention.

The major contenders in the Republican canvass are former Gov. Lowden of Illinois and Secretary of Commerce Hoover, neither of whom has avowed his candidacy. In fact, the only avowed G. O. P. candidates are Senator Curtis of Kansas and Senator Willis of Ohio, each of whom thinks he has as good a chance to land the prize as Warren Harding had at Chicago in 1920.

Senator Curtis is beginning to show strength outside of his state and is not unlikely to go into the convention with a sizable block of votes. Senator Willis is not as seriously considered now as was Senator Harding before the 1920 convention, which means about zero in consideration.

Between Lowden and Hoover.

It is apparent that the contest for the Republican nomination in the early balloting will be between Lowden and Hoover. Their managers are organizing armies of workers and going after the delegates wherever there is promise of picking up a few votes without being accused of poaching upon the preserves of some minor candidate.

POLICEMAN, WOUNDED IN JAIL BREAK FATAL TO 2, MAY BE PROMOTED

Promotion, as well as a bravery citation and extra compensation, will be conferred upon Policeman Bernard McNeill, lockup keeper at the Wash avenue station, the hero of the attempted jail break early yesterday in which one Negro prisoner was slain, a second committed suicide, and McNeill was wounded twice, it was reported last night.

Police Commissioner Michael Hughes is said to have requested special reports from Capt. Richard Gill, commanding the station, with a view of promoting McNeill.

Harry Stokes, 20, of 4205 Langley avenue, and Demey Parker, 23, of 4930 South State street, were the prisoners slain. They, with Othello Levey, 27, of 4205 Langley avenue, had been held under bonds totaling $200,000 on twenty robbery charges each by Judge John Sharbaro.

When Policeman McNeill entered the station bullpen, which also contained twelve other prisoners, Stokes snatched the policeman's gun and Parker grabbed McNeill. Stokes fired three times, one bullet killing Parker and the other two wounding McNeill. Sgt. Ernest Deleage and his squad rushed to McNeill's aid, throwing a tear bomb in the midst of the struggling prisoners. Stokes leaped into a nearby cell and shot himself to death to avoid capture. A coroner's inquest yesterday was continued to Feb. 9 to permit of McNeill appearing to testify.

THRONGS PLACE POPPIES ON BIER OF MARSHAL HAIG

LONDON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—When the body of Field Marshal Earl Haig, who commanded the mightiest army Great Britain ever mustered, is taken to Westminster abbey on Friday it will be borne on a historic gun carriage—the carriage of the gun which fired the first British shell in the great war and the one that was used at the burial of the "Unknown Soldier."

War widows and battle-maimed men thronged in the slow column which moved through St. Columba's church tonight, past the field marshal's bier, guarded by tall, smartly uniformed soldiers, whose heads were bowed, with hands resting on the hilts of inverted sabers. Many brought bouquets of red poppies—memorials of the terrible, gallant fighting in Flanders and emblems of the beloved field marshal's tireless efforts to aid the war's victims who still survive.

On Friday, after a service at St. Columba's, the nation will honor its faithful servant by a funeral at Westminster abbey. The body will then be taken to Glasgow, where it will lie in state from Saturday to Monday.

HICKMAN JURY HEARS STORY OF GIRL'S SLAYING

Detective Denies He Was Promised Immunity.

BY GEORGE SHAFER.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 1.—(Special.)

William Edward Hickman's own story of the kidnapping and slaying of 13-year-old Marion Parker was told to the jury in Judge J. J. Trabucco's court this afternoon.

Detective Richard Lucas, who was the official party that brought Hickman to Los Angeles after his capture, told the story. For an hour and twenty-five minutes Lucas poured out the revelations as the young prisoner had told them to him.

Lucas was the first witness, after a full week of trial, to take the stand. Previous days had been consumed in the reading of defense depositions from Hickman's former acquaintances, bearing on his sanity.

Confession Is Introduced.

Half an hour after Lucas had finished his narrative, District Attorney Am. Kays put in evidence Hickman's written confession, the writing of which lasted him for two days of the train ride back from Pendleton, Ore., where he was captured. This confession was read from the witness box.

Lucas began his testimony with the time Dec. 24, 1927, when he and Lieut. Harry Raymond of the Los Angeles police took the killer from Pendleton authorities.

"He was on the floor of the Pendleton jail, rolling as if in a fit when we came," Lucas said. "He was mumbling. When I came into the cell, he opened his eyes and looked up. I told him to get up and be a man."

Says He Was Feigned.

"On the next day he had another fit. I and Raymond asked him why he was pulling this fit stuff and acting that way. We told him 'we are going to take you back to Los Angeles and we can take you back easily and it will be a lot more comfortable for you if you forget these fits and travel along easily.'"

"He asked us, 'What kind of a fit do you think I pulled up there?' and I told him he may have fooled the people in Pendleton, but he couldn't fool us."

Reckless Murder Confession.

The detective then went on to relate Hickman's story of the kidnapping of Marion from her school; how he held her captive in his apartment and wrote ransom letters to her father; how he became panicky at the idea of being captured and determined to kill the child, and, finally, how he dragged her, dissected her body, delivered the parts to the father, collected $1,500, and escaped.

When Lucas finished his story District Attorney Kays cross-examined him as follows:

Q.—Did he at any time seem insane to you during the making of this confession, or in any of your contact with the defendant?

A.—He was positively sane. He was rational and in the full possession of his faculties. He talked and behaved a knowledge about the way they select a jury in Los Angeles. He knew about court procedure. He talked about how insane people act.

Q.—Did he at any time betray any emotion?

A.—Along the road to Los Angeles a man at one of the stations put his hand to his throat, and Hickman only laughed.

Q.—What did he talk about?

A.—He thought his trial for murder was going to be before Judge Hardy, and he seemed pleased at this. He said he would plead guilty and throw himself on the mercy of the court. Everything he did was well reasoned. He said that he did not think Judge Hardy's religious affiliations would permit him to sentence him to hang.

Read More Depositions.

The defense devoted most of the day to introducing depositions, acquaintances of Hickman's in Kansas City who knew him as a "gentle, reliable, industrious, bright" youth, prior to 1926, but who "detected a great change" in his disposition and activities after that.

Before Judge Trabucco's court opened Hickman and Welby Hunt appeared in Judge Carlos E. Hardy's courtroom, where their trial had been set for the murder of C. Ivy Thomas, a druggist, during a holdup on Dec. 24, 1926. Judge Hardy continued the case until Feb. 15.

Trying by violent means to make a relative return some photograph records he said she had borrowed, const. Policeman Daniel Beckman a fine and a severe rebuke yesterday.

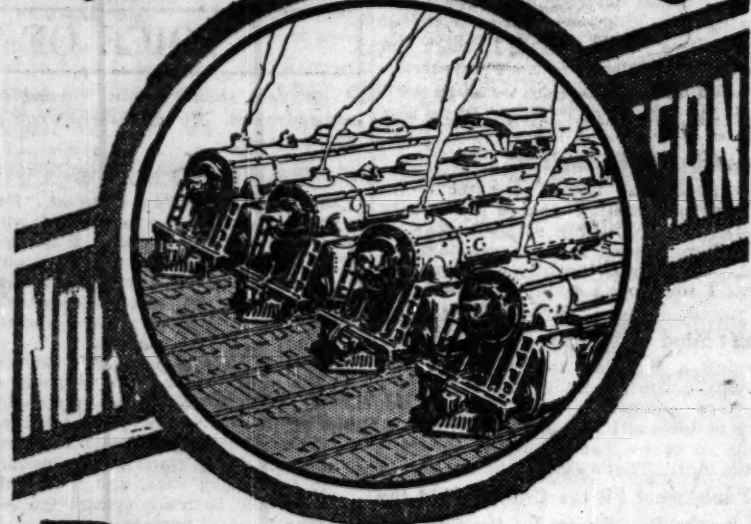

Mrs. Mary Toomey, 1108 South Hamilton avenue, Beckman's daughter-in-law, appeared before the police trial board and testified that on three occasions the policeman came to her home intoxicated, broke windows, and fired his gun to frighten her. Beckman at first denied the charges, but when reprimanded by Thomas J. Huston, president of the board, admitted the acts.

He was fined ten days' pay, warned to stay away from Mrs. Toomey's home, and to keep his gun in its holster except when firing at bandits. Beckman is assigned to the Maxwell street station.

WOMAN KILLED, DRIVER HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Two Deaths Raise 1928
Toll to 83.

Miss Hazel McMahon, 35 years old, 1411 South Lowe avenue, was killed and John O'Flaherty, 34 years old, 313 North Rockwood avenue, was injured perhaps fatally when their automobile smashed into a railroad viaduct at Stewart and Archer avenues early yesterday. His wife, when told of the accident, said O'Flaherty frequently drove home customers of the Plymouth Court garage, Plymouth court and Park street, where he is night manager.

With two other deaths, the motor toll for Cook county was raised to 84 since Jan. 1.

Richard Letten, 15 years old, Oak Forest, was killed in a collision between the truck he was driving and a street car at Germania place and Clark street.

Mrs. Ida Paris, 55 years old, 4149 North St. Louis avenue, died in the Martha Washington hospital early this morning from a fractured skull received last night when she was struck by an automobile in front of 3457 Irving Park boulevard just as she alighted from a street car. The Albany Park police held Leo M. Arms, 4251 Irving Park boulevard, manager of the Chicago Concrete Post company, driver of the automobile, for the inquest.

RAILWAYS LOSE PLEA TO SMASH PAY BOOST PACT

Federal Judge George A. Carpenter yesterday dismissed a petition filed by fifty-four western railroads seeking to set aside an award which boosted the pay of their firemen and hostlers and hostler helpers from between 30 and 35 cents a day. Officials of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Engineers, who represented the employees in the arbitration hearings, estimate the award affects between 45,000 and 65,000 rail workers.

Judge Carpenter's action will make the award effective unless an appeal to the United States Circuit court is made within ten days.

JOBLESS FATHER OF TWO SLAIN AS HE STEALS COAL

While stealing coal from a car on the property of the People's Gas Light and Coke company, at 96th street and Baltimore avenue last night, George Pokak, 26 years old, 3610 Baltimore avenue, was shot and killed. He was the father of two children and was out of work.

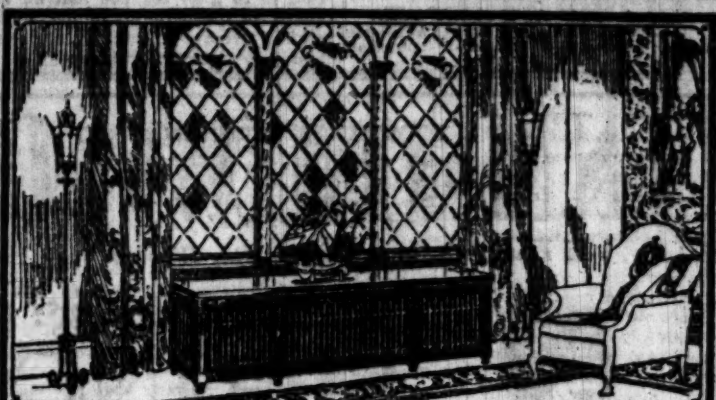

George Brun, a watchman for John Mohr & Sons, boiler manufacturers, told South Chicago police after a two hour questioning that he fired the shot. After firing at Pokak, Brun notified the police, but denied at first that he did the shooting.

Brun and Stephen Yergovich, 3622 Baltimore avenue, who was helping Pokak take the coal, are being held for the inquest today.

FRANCE AND U. S. TO SIGN TREATY OF ARBITRATION

Washington, D. C., Feb. 1.—(Special.)—The new Franco-American arbitration treaty negotiated to replace the old Root convention which expires Feb. 27 will be signed Monday at the state department. It was announced today by Secretary of State Kellogg.

The new treaty will be much stronger than the one it replaces and with the Bryan conciliation treaty is expected to make war less probable than under the old treaty. As the Root arbitration treaties with Great Britain and other nations expire they will be given an opportunity to negotiate treaties similar to the one with France.

The Secret of a Beautiful Home is... CONCEALED RADIATORS

Ask your interior decorator for ideas, and the first suggestion will be—CONCEAL those bare radiators with charming pieces of steel furniture. In hundreds of homes, SLYKER Steel Radiator Enclosures are protecting fine furniture, expensive drapes and treasured heirlooms from the destructiveness of dry heat.

And too, protecting health, for SLYKER is equipped with a patented humidifier that keeps the atmosphere moist. Velvety enamel finishes to match furnishings. A sensible investment. Investigate now!

STYLE draws Motor Show attention to the charming exhibit of Nash

NASH is winning the Motor Show crowds by its charming exhibit of motor car style.

There is a finer mode of motoring—you will be conscious of it when you view the Nash display. There is an inner circle of motoring satisfaction, and Nash owners have found it.

They ride surrounded by exceptional luxury—on deep-buttoned and tufted form-fitted cushions upholstered in fabrics of exquisite tone and texture. Inlaid walnut and walnut finish paneling in both knurled and straight grain, and inlaid walnut steering wheels add style to Nash coachcraft.

You will notice also the charm of Nash Colonial interiorware, inspired in design by Early American silversmiths. Nash colors are still another style note, applied as they are by the Nash deep-lustre process, which imparts depth and sheen to their beauty.

Nash is the style center, and the value center, of all the cars displayed at the Show. Be sure to see this charming exhibit of the best in modern motoring.

47 Employers Bid Against Each Other for This Man's Services!

MR. J. N. JOHNSON was a capable and experienced sales manager. He had the ability and the aggressiveness required to put over a successful sales campaign—all he lacked was an opportunity.

He knew that to sell his services most profitably he must get in touch with the greatest possible number of executives in Chicago. In analyzing this problem, his keen, sales-trained mind rapidly came to the conclusion that there was but one way in which he could do this... advertise in a medium which the majority of Chicago employers read, The Chicago Tribune. So he ordered a well worded ad, fully describing his qualifications and the type of position he was seeking, to be run in The Sunday Tribune.

The results this ad produced speak for themselves! Within a short time he had been offered 47 positions and was able to choose that which best fitted his ability and his needs.

Chicago executives read The Tribune! Whether you are seeking your first position or a better one there is no method as satisfactory as the one Mr. Johnson used. For your ad printed in the Want Ad Section is a message from you directly to them. Place your ad today at—

YANKEE SHIPS COMING BACK IN S. AMERICA TRADE

6 U. S. Companies' Craft
Plying to East Coast.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Feb. 1.—There was a time when American shipping filled the ports of the world. And then there came a time when the sight of a merchant ship flying the American flag in a foreign port would bring crowds to the water-front.

But our trade, just a few years ago "extra pickings" for factories intent on the increasing needs of the domestic market, is gaining again, and has grown to such an extent that American shipping companies are once more in the field. And this despite higher wages paid American seamen and higher operating costs of American ships.

Particularly beneficial has been this boom in exports to the east coast of South America. Two new American lines of freighters have been added to services into the River Plate in the last year, and there are now six American companies which maintain regular sailings of cargo and passenger ships flying the American flag to ports of Brazil, Uruguay, and Argentina.

Operates Fast Ships.

The Munson Steamship company operates two services, the passenger and cargo line out of New York and a second cargo service from the gulf ports to Bahia, Rio de Janeiro, Santos, Montevideo, and Buenos Aires. The four big Munson liners out of New York, said to be the fastest freighters in the world, have a capacity of more than 8,000 tons of cargo, and it is seldom they leave or enter New York harbor without a capacity load. The Munson ship line operates a monthly service from New Orleans and other gulf ports, with four freight ships averaging 3,000 tons capacity.

The American Republics line of shipping board vessels, operated out of Boston, New York, and east coast ports to Brazil and the River Plate by C. H. Sprague & Co., with twelve cargo vessels, gives a weekly service. Its ships average 3,400 tons carrying capacity.

The "big steel octopus" of prohibition times—no longer an "octopus" in the popular imagination—is represented in the list of owners operating to the River Plate. The Northern line, owned by the United States Steel Products interests, maintains a monthly sailing in each direction with a fleet of six ships averaging 3,200 tons burden. Their home port is New York.

Another New York-Buenos Aires service is that of the Commercial Steamship company, whose four cargo ships average 2,700 tons capacity.

A ten day schedule of sailings between New Orleans and Brazil and the River Plate is maintained by the Gulf, Brazil, and River Plate line of shipping board vessels, operated by the Mississippi Shipping company. Fifteen vessels averaging 2,300 tons capacity compose its fleet.

Finally there is the McCormick Steamship company, which, with eight ships averaging 3,600 tons burden, give monthly sailings from Vancouver, San Francisco, Los Angeles and the canal to the eastern South American ports. Five foreign lines also maintain regular services.

All the American companies engaged in the traffic seem to be doing a prosperous trade. There is no lack of cargo for the outward voyage. Regular shipments of coffee from Santos make up a large part of the homeward bound cargo; and there is some freight from Argentina and Uruguay. But until purchases of the United States in these last named countries are heavier there will not be the volume of northbound cargo the ships could carry.

Not until there are subsidies will the United States send passenger liners into South American ports comparable with the new Italian, German, and British steamers in appearance, for our passenger vessels must carry a large proportion of cargo to pay expenses. There is no great emigrant traffic from New York southward to the overboard when first class passengers are few. The American passenger ships, while they give everything in the way of comfort and good living, the most exacting passenger could ask, are built primarily as carriers. The fact that they are among the fastest carriers in the world makes them prizes of their class and give importers of American goods here an added talking point of quicker deliveries.

Good Cable Connections.
Two cable companies, the All-America, linked with the Postal and Commercial lines, and a British company, the Western, operating in conjunction with the American Western Union, give excellent communication with New York and other North American cities. The Marconi wireless service also is excellent.

In commercial aviation, Argentina seems to be behind other South American countries. The excellent railway services, almost entirely in British hands, have doubtless retarded air development. There is no call for air mail, as most business is concentrated in Buenos Aires. The Latecoere company has begun its service between Buenos Aires and Natal, and an air mail to Europe is due soon.

Statements appearing in North American newspapers indicating that air mail connections would soon be established between New York and Buenos Aires are hailed with delight here.

ST. THOMAS, Virgin Islands, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The freedom of the city today was conferred on Col. Charles A. Lindbergh by his fellow Americans of this little island in the Caribbean after a day of innumerable honors and enthusiastic fêtes.

Crowds Follow Flyer.
The honor was conferred at an extraordinary meeting of the colonial council this afternoon. As he entered the room with Gov. Evans, the members rose in tribute.

During the day the colonel visited the hospital here, went to the Free Masons' lodge, where a special meeting was held in his honor, and was presented with a silver Masonic jewel with a gold handle; attended the horse races, and then rounded out the day with a sightseeing trip.

The people of St. Thomas, no less eager to pay tribute to the American air man, flocked everywhere that the flyer went, and as he drove in an open automobile with Gov. Evans to the public garden this morning he was constantly surrounded by eager crowds, including many school children.

Col. Lindbergh tomorrow will make one of the shortest hops of his good will tour, taking off for San Juan, Porto Rico, only 75 miles away, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 1.—At a dinner given by American Ambassador Dwight Morrow to the French transatlantic flyers, Dieudonne Costes and Joseph Lebrun, the latter announced that he and M. Costes would make a transatlantic flight to Paris from New York and return. Representative members of the American colony were present at the dinner.

plumbing
required

"THE CONOVER is thoroughly practical!" From all sides we hear the same verdict—from household science authorities, from engineers, from homemakers. This enthusiastic acceptance means but one thing—the new Portable Model AA CONOVER is in every way practical for you, with large family or small, in house or apartment. There is no cost but the machine itself—no new sink nor plumbing required. The CONOVER brings the convenience and sanitation of electric dishwashing within the means of the thriftiest budget. To operate it is simplicity itself. Fills from faucet, empties into sink. A few minutes and all the dishes from an average meal come out delightfully clean, sparkling, hot and dry! You must see it to realize how practical a time- and work-saver the CONOVER can be. Call at any of the stores listed below and see how it operates.

REBELS DEFEAT MEXICAN TROOPS; RETAIN SEAPORT

45 Killed by Federals in Second Battle.

Nogales, Ariz., Feb. 1.—(AP)—A delayed dispatch to the Nogales Herald from Tepic, Mexico, today said wounded Mexican soldiers were arriving in that city bringing news of a battle at the small seaport town of Las Penas, Jalisco, on the southwestern Pacific coast, between Mexican federal forces and "populares," church sympathizers. Government troops, the dispatch said, were defeated and the "populares," numbering 150, were left in control of the town.

45 Rebels Reported Killed.
MEXICO CITY, Feb. 1.—(U. P.)—Forty-five Catholic rebels were killed in a three-hour battle with federal soldiers near Cotija, a Guadalajara dispatch said today. Father Crescencio Laguarda, a priest said to be commander of the rebels, was reported killed. Louis Guizar Morfin, the other reported leader, was said to have been wounded.

HUNT U. S. GUN RUNNERS

BY JOHN CORNYN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
MEXICO CITY, Feb. 1.—Orders were issued today by the war department to quarter troops in Port Villarta, Jalisco, and patrol the waters fronting on the port, to prevent war supplies from reaching the rebels from ammunition purveyors in the United States.

For more than a year American guns and pistols have been found on captured and dead rebels. It is calculated that more than $1,000,000 worth of supplies reached the rebels from the United States during the last year through Port Villarta, a little, almost hidden bay of which no one took any notice until the war department learned, apparently through captured rebels, where the leak was. It is said there are more than a dozen boats with charters as fishing boats and coast traders which have been acting as blockade runners. The Mexican government alleges the smuggled arms and ammunition are paid for with money collected from Catholic and Catholic sympathizers, largely in the United States.

Within the last five days eleven rebel bands in the state of Vera Cruz have given up the struggle and sent envoys to the commander of the troops in the state of Vera Cruz. Among the rebel leaders' surrendering are Luis Contreras, a notorious bandit leader, alleged to have Catholic affiliations; Rodolfo Lozano, said at one time to command 2,000 rebels, and Florentino Vallejo, who joined forces with Arnulfo Gomez during the Gomez-Serrano revolt.

Jose Lagunes, credited several times with wrecking trains along the line of the Mexican railway, was reported today to have opened communication with the military authorities for surrender.

ALD. GROSSMAN DRAFTS PLAN FOR CITY MANAGER

Agitation in favor of a city manager form of government for Chicago resulted yesterday in the preparation by Ald. Leonard J. Grossman (5th) of a bill by which the city council, if approving, would ask the legislature to make the change.

The Grossman measure would abolish the electoral office of mayor, though retaining the title, but the mayor would be selected by and be responsible to the city council. The council would have 50 members as at present, but with 4 year in place of the present 2 year terms. They would be elected. The council would elect its own presiding officer with the title of president of the city. The council would create by ordinance all city departments, selecting the city controller and city clerk, but allowing the mayor to choose the others.

"The power of the mayor to crack a whip over the aldermen as he may do now through the political power and patronage he controls would be shattered," Ald. Grossman said of his plan. He will introduce his measure in the council at the next meeting.

WOUND FATAL, HUNT SLAYER.
Police are seeking the assailant of Frank Gold, 24, of 357 South Avera avenue, who died yesterday at the County hospital of a gunshot wound which he received Jan. 24 while in front of a poolroom at 1250 Blue Island avenue.

MICHELIN TIRES & TUBES

You are practically certain to get more mileage by changing to Michelines

Both this year and last, written reports (secured from several thousand motorists picked at random from the great army who are trying our Michelin Tires) showed that more than 80 out of every 100 motorists who changed to Michelines secured more mileage by the change—and only 9 out of every 100 secured less mileage.

This increase in mileage averages 36%
Records covering millions of miles prove that Michelines go 36% farther than the average tire. That means 4,000 or 5,000 miles extra per tire.

The finest construction thruout
Only the best of the world's materials are used in Michelin Tires. For instance, Michelin rubber comes from selected plantations and costs 2c more per pound than the market price. Moreover, the most advanced design and manufacture are employed thruout the tire. For example, Michelin has pioneered in the development of high-twist fabric; and Michelin Tires have always been made of rubber-saturated fabric, now widely advertised.

You don't pay for Michelin's extra mileage
Tho they are better, Michelin Tires cost no more than standard tires. That is possible because, unlike other manufacturers, Michelin concentrates on making only one grade—the best—and thus is able to produce the highest quality more economically.

Michelin Ring-shaped Tubes are also supreme Because Michelin Tubes are made ring-shaped, instead of being made straight like other tubes, they fit better and outlast all others. And because they are compounded with a special kind of antimony, they keep the casing as much as 20° cooler, thus increasing its life considerably.

Michelin Tires and Tubes Cost No More

	Casings	Tubes
30 x 3 1/2 regular	$8.65	$1.85
30 x 3 1/2 over-size	10.80	2.25
29 1/2 x 4-50 universal	9.60	2.45

We carry a full line of Michelin Balloons, Oversize Cords, Heavy Duty Cords and Ring-shaped Tubes, all at prices just as attractive as the above.

URGES FRANCE TO LIFT RHINELAND CURTAIN OF IRON

Stresemann Begs Support for Locarno Ideals.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
(Copyright, 1928, By The Chicago Tribune.)
BERLIN, Feb. 1.—Foreign Minister Gustav Stresemann today delivered his second fighting speech to the Reichstag since rising from his sickbed. He turned on the nationalist critics for saying the Locarno policy has led up to a blind alley. He defiantly reasserted his firm resolve to adhere to it.

The first part of the speech was an energetic attack on the nationalists, who form part of the government coalition.

Insists on Rhine Evacuation.
The second part was devoted to the Rhineland, the speedy evacuation of which Herr Stresemann insisted was the only gateway for an international understanding. He said he hoped his voice would be heard in Paris and that the French at last would become convinced that it is their duty to do their part for the Locarno policy as its principles may become common faith of all Germans.

More French Troops to Go.
PARIS, Feb. 1.—(AP)—An outspoken offensive for peace and the outlawing of war for all times is the theme of a speech which Foreign Minister Briand will deliver before the senate tomorrow. The United States will come first in M. Briand's remarks, with unlimited cooperation and an expression of unbounded confidence that there never will be any war between France and the United States.

Russia is second, with France's desire not to trouble the soviet's "fifty-fifty policy." Then comes Germany, third, with the announcement of the withdrawal of several regiments from the Rhineland occupation and the tolerant attitude of both countries.

PENNSYLVANIA AT WAR, SENATE TOLD BY JOHNSON

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Feb. 1.—[Special.]—Conditions in the bituminous coal regions of Pennsylvania were pictured to the senate today by Senator Hiram Johnson [Rep. Cal.], who urged favorable action upon his resolution for an inquiry by the committee on interstate commerce.

"In Pennsylvania today there are social revolution and economic warfare," Senator Johnson said. "Worse, far worse, in that great commonwealth are all the dark evils of bloody warfare, sickness, suffering, hardship, privation, want and hunger and the ever attendant infamies of wrong, oppression and tyranny."

Senator Reed [Rep. Pa.], a defender of the coal operators, agreed with Senator Johnson that there is intense suffering in the state and that there should be some means of relief. He cautioned the senate, however, not to jump to conclusions as to the causes. He asserted that everyone connected with the bituminous coal industry in Pennsylvania is suffering, owners as well as the miners.

ADMIRAL JONES TELLS WHY NAVY PARLEY FAILED

Washington, D. C., Feb. 1.—[Special.]—Refusal of the American delegation to accept by agreement a position of inferiority in naval strength to any other power was named today by Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones, retired, as the basic reason for the failure of the three power conference held at Geneva last summer.

While indisposed to censure any nation, Admiral Jones, who attended the conference as senior naval delegate for the United States, told the house naval affairs committee that acceptance of the proposals for naval limitation submitted by Great Britain would "unquestionably" have left this country in an inferior position.

Admiral Jones pointed out that the minimum proposal made by Great Britain called for the construction of sixty 6,000 ton cruisers and fifteen 10,000 ton ships.

"Acceptance of this program," he said, "would have given us fifteen ships, and that is all. The 6,000 ton ships, armed with six inch guns, would have been virtually useless to us, because of our lack of bases."

Does your child
catch cold easily?
—a simple way to protect him
advised by physicians

School absence records tell a striking story. Colds head the list of causes. Colds that may lead to serious illnesses—often lasting weaknesses.

Medical experience has proved that there is one great health promoter, one effective protection against these frequent colds which lower your child's vitality.

Physicians are using it more and more. Cod-liver oil! They find that good cod-liver oil, taken daily, builds up resistance to colds and other infections.

It helps your child to grow and gain in weight as he should. When he gets regularly, the under-par, under-weight child "picks up" quickly and puts on flesh; takes on the ruddy color of health.

Scientists now know that all these benefits are due to the presence of the indispensable Vitamins A and D in this health-builder.

As a body-builder, Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil has become a favorite with physicians. This is because they know they can depend on its uniformly high content of the health-protecting Vitamins A and D. It is all oil, not diluted by any substance. So a spoonful of Squibb's contains the maximum amount of these essential vitamins.

Ask your physician about Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil as a "builder-up" of vitality for your child and a protection against colds and other infections. At all reliable drug stores. For your protection insist on Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil.

Ford Industrial Exposition

131st Regiment Armory (Old First Regiment Armory)
South Michigan Boulevard and Sixteenth Street

An event of unusual importance to everyone interested in automobiles, airplanes, trucks, tractors, shipping and manufacturing. See the Ford methods of turning raw materials into finished products.

STEP-BY-STEP demonstration of the Ford method of making steel parts from raw materials.

Practical demonstration of the way Ford has developed the use of electric welding, with electric welding machines actually welding the gasoline tank and rear axle housing of the new Ford.

Exhibit showing some of the exacting physical tests to which Ford subjects raw materials and finished parts.

Models of blast furnaces where iron is made; open hearth furnaces where steel is made; coke plant where valuable by-products are recovered from coal; glass plant showing the Ford method of continuous production.

How Ford recovers charcoal, acetate of lime, heavy oils, light oils, creosote, methyl alcohol and other valuable by-products from wood waste which was once considered worthless.

Ore from Ford-owned mines in Michigan; coal from Ford-owned mines in Kentucky and West Virginia; lumber from Ford-owned forests in Northern Michigan.

Pictorial exposition of Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad and Great Lakes ore boats showing how Ford methods have been applied to railroading and shipping.

How close precision is made possible through Ford-Johansson gages which are accurate to so fine a limit as one-millionth of an inch.

Exhibit of the safety of the Ford-Triplex shatter-proof glass used in the windshields of all the new Ford cars.

How large scale production gives you the safety of all-steel bodies at low cost.

Examples of training given boys at the Henry Ford Trade School.

Special showing of Ford-Stout tri-motored all-metal monoplane, which comfortably accommodates twelve passengers and two pilots.

Large panoramic paintings presenting complete pictorial story of the Ford industries. Enlarged photographs showing detailed operations of the Ford plants.

Cut-out exhibits showing engine, transmission and differential of new Ford cars in operation.

The Ford Industrial Exposition is of unusual value because it is a practical expression of the work of the Ford Industries.

For the first time in Chicago, it is possible for you to see at least a part of the production and manufacturing methods by which the Ford Industries have brought the modern instruments of transportation and agriculture within the means of millions. So great was the interest in this exposition in New York that more than a million people attended in one week.

221,890 AUTOS JANUARY OUTPUT, REPORTS SHOW

Uphold Faith in Growth of the Industry.

BY PUTNEY HAIGHT.
Further evidence in support of the optimistic predictions of automobile manufacturers as to the record-breaking sales features for 1928 came last night with the announcement of January production figures by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce at a directors' meeting.
The reports showed January production was 221,890 cars, an increase of 18 per cent over the preceding January.
The directors opposed toll auto roads. They favored the development of public roads.
Predicts Business Changes.
Walter P. Chrysler, head of the Chrysler corporation, declared:
"Reconstruction of retail business will result from the increasing use of motor cars. During the change in this system from low buildings and horse-drawn vehicles to motor cars and skyscrapers there has been a continuous disintegration of urban life, a development of suburban centers and even of rural sections within easy reach of the city.
"The same influence is now beginning to have its effect on retail business. Necessary business, which cannot be satisfactorily transacted at one location will find a location where it can be transacted."
A deal was closed yesterday for de-

NOTES OF THE AUTO SHOW

Rapid acceleration is one of the essential features of automobile traffic in Chicago, according to L. J. Blunden, manager of the Chicago Oldsmobile branch.

More than 4,000 applications for dealer franchises were reported by John N. Willys at the organization banquet held yesterday at the Palmer house.

More than 12,000 persons had visited the special exhibit of Dodge Bros., displaying the entire Dodge line, at 1519-21 South Wabash avenue, officials of the company announced at the close of the display last night.

Capt. H. M. Beery, speaking before the Franklin dealers at the Drake hotel yesterday, said the modern airplane motor is the air cooled motor and tests of long duration have proved that type of cooling to be the most efficient from an operating viewpoint.

Delivery of 125 new 1928 Buicks and Chevrolets to the Hertz Drive-Itself Chicago stations at an approximate cost of $100,000.

Larger Crowds at Show.

Evidence of continued and increasing public interest in the automobile show and the motor situation generally, was seen in the larger attendance at the auto show this time.

Capacity crowds also are reported at the Ford exhibit at the 131st Infantry armory and the General Motors exhibit at the Stevens hotel.
The Ford officials reported an attendance of 60,000 people yesterday, including a group of officials of Armour & Co. Among the Armour officials were F. Edson White, P. D. Armour, Lester Armour, F. J. Reynolds, and C. H. Lester. Mr. White commented on the exposition, saying: "This is most impressive. It is an interesting note in modern industry that Mr. Ford should adopt this method of revealing to the public the processes back of his methods."

At a meeting of the Five Hundred club yesterday in the Blackstone hotel Lloyd Maxwell of Chicago was elected president; Gregory Flynn of Company officials of the Humble oil company more improvements of far reaching consequence have been made in the cars of this make than in any new models brought out in many years.

The automotive industry with its combination of efficient and low cost volume production is by far the most important single factor in history, Prof. G. W. Dyer of Vanderbilt university told 800 Oakland-Pontiac dealers at the annual Chicago banquet at the Palmer house.

Peerless has enjoyed the largest January in its history, it was announced by General Manager German at the Congress hotel gathering of the organization.

Paul G. Hoffman, vice president and sales manager of the Studebaker corporation, addressed 800 members of the National Automobile Dealers' association at the Palmer house yesterday.

New York, vice president, and Fred Duesenberg of Indianapolis, secretary and treasurer.

Mr. Maxwell is president of Williams & Cunningham advertising agency and president of the Midwestern Country club. Mr. Flynn is with the B. F. Goodrich Rubber company. Mr. Duesenberg is president of Duesenberg, Inc., automobile builders. Plans were announced for two banquets next year, to be held at the time of the New York and Chicago national automobile shows. The Five Hundred club was originally known as the Old Timers' club, and membership has been restricted to men who have been identified with the automotive industry for ten years or more.

I. C. Held Up for Hour as Fire Razes Warehouse

More than 40 firemen fighting a blaze in an old unused warehouse at East 78th street and the Illinois Central road, stepped out of danger yesterday and watched the building collapse. Traffic on the railroad was tied up for an hour. The damage was estimated at $10,000.

MURDER SCENE RECONSTRUCTED FOR HILL JURORS

Blood Stained Stairs and Carpet in Court.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)
Ottawa, Ill., Feb. 1.—(Special.)—Blood stained wooden stairs, a square of plaster wall, linoleum carpet, bricks, and clay were brought into Judge Joe A. Davis' court today as the state reconstructed the scene of the murder of Mrs. Eliza A. Hill in her Stretcher home last August.

Special Prosecutor Andrew J. O'Connor arranged stairs and linoleum taken from the Hill home and propped the plaster wall so that a crude but effective replica was presented of the narrow stairway in which Mrs. Hill was standing when she was shot through the head.
Harry Hill, 22-year-old defendant, charged with his mother's murder, stared as the prosecutor produced bricks from the storeroom which had been Mrs. Hill's sepulchre and a jar of clay taken from the cellar grave. Then, with Coroner's Chemist William D. McNally of Cook county testifying as an expert witness, the presence of human blood on the stairs and carpet was verified, and a vivid picture of how the murder was committed given to the jury.

Seeks to Fix Murder Date.
Dr. McNally's testimony was intended to support the state's contention that Mrs. Hill was murdered about Aug. 4, and not nine days later, as asserted by the defense. He examined the blood stains on Aug. 29, he said, and they were then about four or five weeks old.
From the position of the blood stains on the stairs and carpet, Mrs. Hill was ascending the stairs when the bullet was fired which killed her, according to the interpretation of the state. She probably fell forward with her head resting on the landing, it was indicated. From there she was dragged to the basement and buried in a shallow grave.

Girl Tells of Check.
Miss Edith Brown, bookkeeper at the Stretcher Motor company, testified that the young defendant came to her on Aug. 6, shortly after the murder is alleged to have been committed, and cashed a check for $50.

"He told me he needed the money because his mother was going away," the girl testified.
There was more testimony from a hotel clerk, who declared that Harry was in the habit of stopping frequently in the Plumb hotel at Stretcher and that he sometimes registered as from other cities. The youth was stopping at the hotel until the morning of the day his mother's body was discovered. It was brought out.

Back of the perfected Whippet is an unequalled array of performance records—conclusive evidence of Whippet's mechanical superiority over other light cars.

The Whippet holds the official A.A.A. Coast-to-Coast Economy Record with an average of 43.28 miles to a gallon of gasoline. No more dramatic proof of utmost fuel economy has ever been given.

Among 5,586 Whippet owners, in a national test, the average mileage was 38 miles to a gallon. Despite the most widely varying conditions this high average was obtained.

In a special speed test at Rockingham Park Speedway a Whippet averaged 71.6 miles per hour. From Grand Rapids to Petoskey, Michigan, a Whippet beat the time of the fastest train by 3 hours, covering the 219 miles in 212 minutes. In a 135-mile Second Gear Run, a Whippet traveled 135 miles in 4 hours, 3 minutes, averaging 33.33 miles per hour.

And in Pittsburgh, a Whippet climbed the 850-foot Seventeenth Street incline. The grade was from 37 1/2 to 40% and the time, 46 seconds.

PROVED Superiority

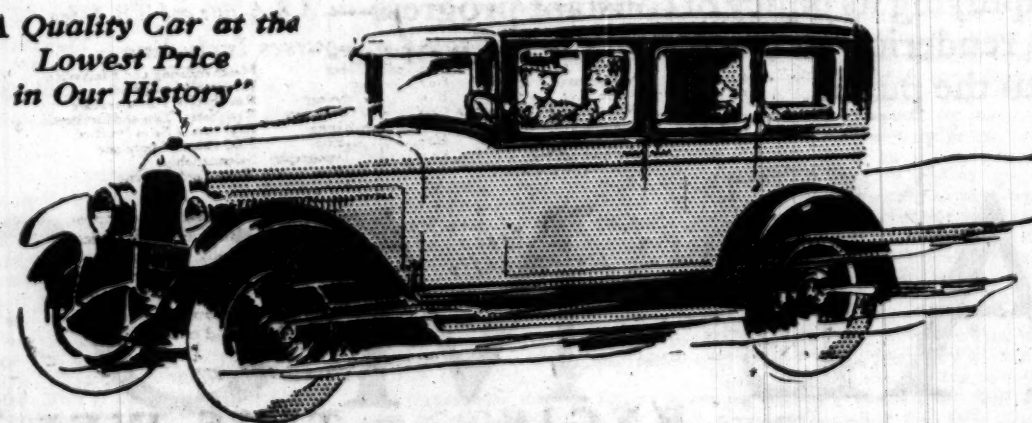

When you buy a Whippet you buy a car which has stood the test of more than 500,000,000 miles of driving in the hands of owners—a car of advanced engineering design, with such features as big 4-wheel brakes, full force-fed lubrication, gasoline tank in rear, silent timing chain and many more.

Come in and see the perfected Whippet—now—today.

Special De Luxe Exhibit in the Palmer House during the Chicago Automobile Show

A special display of Whippet and Willys-Knight cars will be held in the Palmer House (street level, just off the main entrance on State Street). The public is cordially invited.

Another GENERAL MOTORS Achievement The Successful PONTIAC SIX

Less than four weeks have passed since the New Series Pontiac Six was presented to the public. And in that brief time it has shown conclusively that it is destined to surpass even the success of its predecessors.

To General Motors this was not unexpected. For the New Series Pontiac Six represents a further working out of certain basic policies whose soundness has found repeated proof over a period of years.

Briefly, these policies are... to apply diversified engineering skill in the creation and development of all its cars... to give the public the benefits of engineering progress at the earliest possible date... to protect owners in advance by strictest testing... and to pass on to the buyer the economies of tremendous purchasing power and large volume production.

Finding its field in the public's need for a low-priced six combining beauty, comfort and unquestioned stamina, the Pontiac Six has established a notable record of success since its introduction two years ago.

From the day of its presentation, it has won an ever-increasing number of owners by virtue of splendid six-cylinder performance, staunch dependability, satisfying comfort and distinctive beauty.

At no time has its popularity diminished. At no time has there been pressing need for making changes in Pontiac design.

Yet as rapidly as General Motors engineers have achieved advancement in any field pertaining to motor car design, those advancements have been incorporated in the Pontiac Six and passed on to the public—

—not because of necessity, not because of public insistence—but because General Motors believes that the public is entitled to all the advantages of engineering progress as rapidly as they are available.

This has been responsible for the steady enrichment of Pontiac Six dollar value in the past. And it stands even more vividly revealed today in the New Series Pontiac Six which offers even smoother and more delightful six-cylinder performance, even more vivid style and beauty, even more definite assurance of enduring owner satisfaction.

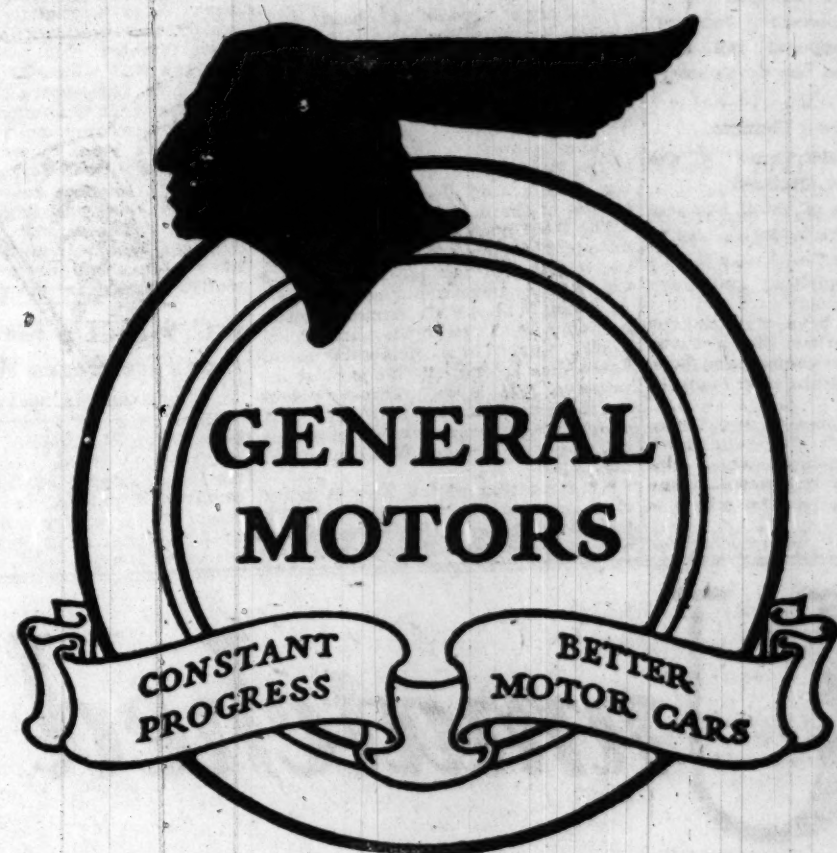

Study the chassis of the New Series Pontiac Six and you will see repeated instances of the combined engineering skill and experience of General Motors engineers working on cars in every price class—unmistakable evidence of remorseless testing reeled off by the tens of thousands of miles on the hills and criss-cross roads of the General Motors Proving Ground.

Examine its bodies and you will recognize another result of General Motors resources, the mastery of the Fisher Body Corporation in design and construction...

...for this great General Motors division, with its 44 plants and its internationally famous craftsmen, has lavished upon the new Pontiac Six the full measure of its creative skill and manufacturing ability.

Consider the prices at which the Pontiac Six is offered—and you will instantly sense that they reflect the advantages of General Motors vast resources and the economies of General Motors tremendous purchasing power with its annual savings of millions.

In the development of the New Series Pontiac Six, General Motors has enriched its history by another noteworthy achievement—again exemplifying its policy of constant progress—again rendering an increasing measure of service to the public.

In keeping with General Motors' policy of progress, the Pontiac was introduced in 1926 thus adding to the General Motors' line a low-priced quality six. The fact that it established a world's production record during its first year reveals the soundness of the policy—which now finds further expression in a new Pontiac Six, vitally improved in appearance, performance and comfort.

JENNINGS GETS O. K. FOR CHICAGO

THE GUMPS—THERE'S NO LAW AGAINST IT

BRUINS WOBBLE
AND BROOKLYN
WINS, 33 TO 22Referee Irks Crowd
with 31 Fouls.

The second half rally which has carried the Bruins to victory in many of their recent American league games ended last night and the Brooklyn Vespertine team romped through at the Broadway armory to a 33 to 22 victory.

To offset the dullness of the game the crowd of 3,500 was offered two diversions. One was the officiating of Referee Leo Sugrman, long considered a target for jokes. The other was the show, the ballyhooed Tennessee, possessor of seven feet two of height.

Proper Incentive.

Manager Hales put the novice into the battle at the right moment. For the crowd was becoming weary of watching Sugrman and needed incentive to wait for the end of the game.

Sugrman surprised all by the excellence of his play. He outjumped Mark Harper at the center ring, and moved with sufficient rapidity to be fouled in the act of shooting. After which he dropped his two free throws through the netting in approved fashion.

Harper, the one time Bruin, is no speedster, so Hales was favored on the defense. Even so he exhibited some of the best known of pro basketball holds and came out with even honors, securing his share of many scoring points.

Referee Sugrman kept his whistle busy. He called 31 fouls and repeatedly broke up the block play by calling the ball dead regardless of whether it was in possession of two men. This in particular aroused the ire of the fans, since the Bruins lost several excellent openings for under the basket shots as a result.

First Visit Here.

This was the Vespertine team's first trip to the west since the Washington machines of the American league was transferred to that club. With the exception of Mark Harper, the players lacked the height and weight common to other teams of the league. But Red Conley and Ray Kennedy, with the assistance of a stout substitute by the name of Williams, who looked like a miniature discus thrower, had speed and a passing game which drilled the Bruin defense for many scoring opportunities. The teamwork was superior to say on the armory floor this season with the exception of the Colley.

Country's scoring efforts were Brooklyn's greatest asset, the forward getting five field goals and three free throws.

The L. W. A. C. Brownies scored on May and Malone girls 12 to 9 in a preliminary game. The game proved the worth of close competition which the winning lacked and was one of the best girls' games of the year.

In the other preliminary the Krenn girls 12 to 6, the Bruins' lineup:

Jennings' Death Leaves Gap in Public's Hero Gallery

CRANTON, Pa., Feb. 1.—(AP)—The funeral of Hugh A. Jennings, one of the greatest characters that baseball has produced, who died at his home here early today of meningitis, will take place Friday morning with a solemn high mass of requiem in St. Peter's cathedral here, it was announced late today. Burial will be in St. Catherine's cemetery.

Expressions of regret at the passing of one of the idols of the national pastime were received at the Jennings home from all parts of the country.

When Hugh Jennings died baseball lost one of the few men in the game who never nursed a grudge. To him what happened today, meant nothing tomorrow. The true test of a man in sports is in his contact with newspapermen. Sooner or later they cannot avoid writing something about one they regard as a friend. Jennings was one of the rarities who took the good with the bad and laughed it off.

It was his genial nature, as much as any one thing, that raised him to the position he held in the public's hero gallery. By his attitude on the coaching line, always at third base, he invited the jibes of the fans, but no remark ever was sufficiently cutting to drive the smile off Hugh's freckled face. A fan might be particularly objectionable to Jennings in the first inning but before the game was over Hugh could always convert him into a member of the Jennings Boosting society. He did it simply by laughing back. Neither did he ever "high ball" any fan who might get out from the stand for a bit of information.

The stock anecdote about Jennings concerned a mishap while he was coaching baseball and studying law at Cornell university. He decided one day that he would take a swim in the indoor pool. After going through the usual routine of dressing, he found a running dive into the tank and a few minutes later they were carrying him over more dead than alive. He had neglected to observe that the pool did not contain any water.

Years later ball players, when halting Hugh, would advise him to "take another dive in that tank."

Jennings' place in the hearts of the folks fans was demonstrated at the Polo grounds last season when McGraw day was celebrated. A lot of notables were gathered out at the plate for various reasons. Suddenly some spectator discovered Hugh sitting alone in the grand stand. A great

A. L. MAGNATES ADD $1,000 TO PLAYER AWARD

Five Clubs Represented at Meeting Here.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
(Official American league schedule for 1928 on following page.)

In the future the American league's most valuable player award will amount to something more than a diploma and a few yards of publicity. The athletes do not object to the award, but they do object to the publicity.

Recognizing that the award would not develop into a money-making machine, the league's plan had been in operation, the National conceded it was pretty good stuff, so copped it, improving it, however, by doubling the $1,000 in front of the eligible.

Having been tipped off in advance that the award would be a money-making machine, the league's plan had been in operation, the National conceded it was pretty good stuff, so copped it, improving it, however, by doubling the $1,000 in front of the eligible.

This was the outstanding development of several hours of solemn conferring behind bolted doors.

Player each fall originated with Ban Johnson and I. E. Sarnoff, but the $1,000 feature is a National league innovation.

The two of the clubs were represented by officials of the major-minor league Senators, and Red Sox didn't even send the body boy.

Discuss Major-Minor Draft Problems.

A good portion of the session was consumed in discussion of matters pertaining to the major-minor agreement.

Last winter committees from both majors met with a flock of minor leaguers at French Lick, Ind., and adopted what were thought to be improvements in the operation of the draft.

These were purely recommendations such as the raising of the draft price for all classes of minor leaguers and exempting certain players from selection.

Because the minors got all tangled up in their own feet, their Dallas convention in December, these recommendations were not brought up.

The American league favors some of them and wants others changed. The matter will not be adjusted finally until the advisory council can put it in shape for presentation to the small fellows.

The minor leaguers at Dallas took a vote on the question of the draft, opposed to the scheme of drafting but in favor of the minor league.

After disposing of all the business at hand the junior majors adopted the following resolution on the passing of Hugh Jennings: Whereas, death has called Hugh Jennings, one of the most colorful exponents of baseball, a man who did much to build up and popularize the American league, be it resolved that the American league express its sincere regret at the passing of a man who did so much for baseball, who was such a popular figure as a player, manager, and coach, and who, because of his original and unique coaching char-

FOUR WISCONSIN COLLEGES FORM NEW CONFERENCE

Beloit, Lawrence, Ripon, and Carroll in Pact.

Appleton, Wis., Feb. 1.—(Special.)—A new athletic conference, composed of the four oldest colleges in Wisconsin—Beloit, Carroll, Lawrence, and Ripon—was announced here today. It will be known as the Wisconsin Intercollegiate Athletic Association and is based on the principles which govern the larger university conferences.

Adopt Nonscoring Plan.

Scouting is to be abandoned by member schools and the full first year eligibility rule is to be enforced in all sports. This rule also applies to students transferring from other schools.

A high scholastic standing must be maintained by athletes, not only during the period of participation, but also throughout the year.

The new conference will not determine championships or place emphasis on winning teams, but will tend to develop and maintain a high standard of sportsmanship coupled with friendly rivalry.

"We have drawn up these conference agreements," reads a statement issued by the presidents of the four colleges, under whose personal direction the conference was formed, "and have declared our purpose to live in the spirit and letter of them. We have a commissioner who is final arbiter, and we believe that under such an arrangement there is no reason for any sort of controversy."

Aim to Promote Sportsmanship.

"It is our conviction that the primary in athletics is true sportsmanship rather than victory or defeat. We have no sympathy with any form of athletic cheating. We deprecate all forms of mercenary inducements, overemphasis on coaching, illegitimate recruiting, or exploiting of championships. We do not want our friends to evaluate the high purposes of college merely in terms of sports."

Miss Van Wie SECOND IN TRIALS AT PINEHURST

Pinehurst, N. C., Feb. 1.—(Special.)—Scores were high here today as half a hundred women golfers gave the new Pine Needles course its first tournament test. Miss Glenna Collett of Providence, R. I., led the field in the qualifying round of the first women's mid-south open championship by eight strokes, with a card of 40-40-40, while Miss Virginia Van Wie of Chicago registered 44-44-48.

Miss Van Wie's short game was chiefly responsible for her eight strokes difference with Miss Collett. She three putted the third green and repeated the process at the next hole. She was trapped with her second shot at the fifth and the ninth and had a six at the tenth, where she missed a short putt after dropping her second into a trap short of the green. She lost two more strokes to Glenna at the 193 yard fourteenth, where she took a five after hooking her tee shot into a sandy patch. The cards of the leaders:

Miss Van Wie's short game was chiefly responsible for her eight strokes difference with Miss Collett. She three putted the third green and repeated the process at the next hole. She was trapped with her second shot at the fifth and the ninth and had a six at the tenth, where she missed a short putt after dropping her second into a trap short of the green. She lost two more strokes to Glenna at the 193 yard fourteenth, where she took a five after hooking her tee shot into a sandy patch. The cards of the leaders:

TRECEY WIELDS MEAN CESTA IN JAI ALAI GAMES

Rallies to Win Doubles with Marceloni.

Better Trecey, mindful of his reputation as the Bambino of jai alai, swung his cesta with great vigor to overcome an early three point handicap and sweep to victory in the feature doubles event last night at the Rainbo fronton.

Trecey and his partner Marceloni were away to a poor start and Vicente and Maguregui kept out in front until the score stood 9 to 6. Then Trecey set about the task of proving to the 2,000 encouragers the ways and wherefores of his nickname.

Coupling a tricky service with tremendous drives from his forecourt position and aided by some capable back court play by Marceloni, he quickly ran off a string of six consecutive points to lead, 12 to 9. From that point on Trecey was only a matter of minutes away from victory.

The next event, a game of elimination singles, was another matter. With the cash and the cheers of the great majority of the encouragers urging him on, Trecey went down to defeat before Maguregui and barely managed to come out of the ordeal in the play-off for second place.

Trecey again held the spotlight in the sixth game when, teamed with Anibal, he stroked his way to victory after a nip and tuck struggle with the combinations of Teodoro and Furquet and Vicente and Ullaca.

Joseph and Ullaca, two of the outstanding stars of the Rainbo troupe, left last night for New Orleans where they will meet the best cesta swingers of that city on Friday night. Results of last night's games:

LAST evening at eight o'clock, a big Curtiss airplane whirled away from the Chicago Municipal Airport, inaugurating the first overnight service to Texas. At eight-thirty this morning, its burden of mail and express is scheduled for delivery at Dallas, more than one thousand miles away.

Thus again do speed and service in transportation give aid to commercial business—and also to the banking facilities upon which modern business depends.

Always alert to the increasing needs of business, the Illinois Merchants Trust Company has, from the first, been a consistent user of the Government Air Mail. It is logical, therefore, that in the consignment of mail borne by this history-making plane last night were yesterday's items representing our customers' banking transactions with the far South and Southwest.

REPORTS OF DRY WEATHER HELP WHEAT UPWARD

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Continued dry and cold weather over the southwest is attracting more attention and was largely responsible for an upturn in wheat prices yesterday, with the close about the top and with net gains of 1/16 to 1/8, July delivery, March closed at $1.30 1/2, and July 1.28 1/2. Corn gained 1/16 to 1/8, with March 89 1/2 and May 91 1/2. Oats were 1/16 to 1/8 higher, and rye 1/16 to 1/8 higher.

Commission houses were fair buyers of May wheat at times, while shorts were good buyers later, and taken as a whole the market showed more activity than for some time past. Winnipeg gained 5c for the day, while Buenos Ayres and Rosario were 1/4c higher. There was a limited demand at the seaboard for cash wheat, and no export sales of consequence were reported.

Receipts of corn at leading terminal markets are decreasing and with reports that outside markets, including Peoria, were after cash grain here, local sentiment became more bullish than before, there was considerable profit taking as well as selling against export, the bulge was well maintained. Basis in the local cash market was 1/16 to 1/8 higher, compared with May. Some investment buying was reported through commission houses.

Local traders and commission houses were on the buying side of oats with strength in corn a factor. The northwest was a seller early. Trade showed some enlargement. Some export business was under way in rye, but quantities were not given. Houses with eastern connections bought futures, and there also buying in sympathy with the strength in wheat.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

There was a little export business in wheat, corn, rye, and barley at the seaboard, but quantities were not given and were said to be small.

Range of cash grain prices in leading markets follows:

the old, old dances
from the far places

If you'd like to hear the classic dances of many nations, listen to the W-G-N concert
orchestra

tonight, playing
"Morris Dance"....
"Menuet in Olden Style"....
"Danse Oriental"....
and a variety of others.

rah! rah! rah!
collegiate!

YES WE ARE COLLEGIate! Yea! Here's a red-hot, riotous hour on the campus tonight...
A topping new feature
from W-G-N! The Hub Varsity plays the latest student capers...
the College Shop Four sings like nobody's occupation. Go, Northwestern! Fight, Chicago! Yea, Indiana! Why do they all pick on Freshie? Oh professor! Tune in at 9 tonight!

out of the north
comes merry music
THE Cliquot Club Eki-
nos will do some spritly things in the way of novelty music. Their melodies have all the flash
and color of an Aurora Borealis...

here's mac satley's
happy hoodlum
friends
Y'OU'LL hear Mac Sat-
ley today... twice!
He'll be with the Hoodlums tonight, singing
"My Melancholy Baby."
And with him comes Melba Caldwell, who crowns the crazy cares away.
Also "Sharp and Flat," the two boys at two pianos. In the afternoon his merry crew will be reinforced by Benny Kantor, composer and band leader. Give 'em
a break on your radio horn!

Elmer Enjoys Music with His History

Also Praises Quin Ryan's Talk for Children.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Long ago Announcer Quin Ryan of W-G-N created a daily half hour talk for the little tots (now from 6:30 to 7:30). It was as successful and popular then as now, and it is still going as strong and fresh as ever.

A distinct early novelty last evening was the between the acts music program by the W-G-N concert orchestra, 7:30 to 8: a novelty for radio.

I suspected from the start that the great episodes in history from New York through WGBH, 7 to 7:30, were reasonable accurate. Hearing this for the first time, my wife, who is historian of our family, phoned me at the conclusion of the evidence presented in a transcript of the evidence presented
in a transcript of the evidence presented

I have no way to establish the identity of the New York 8:30 to 9:30 program through W-G-N, but the extra rapid and vivacious orchestra numbers will be identification sufficient. The male quartet was O. K., but that orchestra was a marvel—almost dooming the slow type.

The President William T. Cosgrave testimonial banquet speeches from New York through KTV, 8:30 to 9:30,
were interesting.

There was a Mendelssohn program from New York through WMAQ, 9 to 9:30, that gave early promise. It was good music, orchestra and vocalists.
But we have known Mendelssohn's Songs without Words, and the use from childhood. It would seem that the way to the greater Mendelssohn is through his larger works.

Maria Kurek, coloratura soprano,
was the highlight of the late Sunday program through WMAQ, 9 to 10. Her voice is as light as the air through which it sailed.

Late listeners will expect a word
for the W-G-N concert orchestra's excellent program, 10:30 to 11, perhaps for the Pomeroy March of a Marionette and the fine work by the male quartet—their singing being unaccompanied.
Here's that good word.

JANITOR WINS
PAY IN STRIKE AT EVANSTON

Assured that his three months' pay will be forthcoming, Lawrence Christiana, janitor of the six apartment building at 1317 Brummett street, Evanston, ended his one man strike last night. The building had been without furnace heat the last Sunday when he walked out. He began the strike on orders of his union and was aided by union drivers of laundry,
dry, milk, meat and grocery wagons,
who refused to make deliveries to tenants of the building.

Richard Lindsay, health commissioner of Evanston, went into action
yesterday on the strike when Mrs.
Ralph S. Milton, mother of an eight months' old baby, appealed to him for help in having milk delivered for her baby. The corporation which owns the building promised to pay the janitor his back wages. Christiana said the building had changed hands so often he could never learn who should pay him.

NEW YORKERS TRY TO CRASH GATES AT COSGRAVE DINNER

New York, Feb. 1.—[Special.]—President
Cosgrave of the Irish Free State arrived in New York this morning from Ottawa and began a three days whirl of engagements before he sails
for home on the Olympic today.

Following a call on John W. Davis, former Democratic presidential candidate, he was the guest at luncheon of the Foreign Trade association at India house, in Hanover square.

In the afternoon, the president paid
a visit to John Devoy, the aged Irish American leader, and in the evening
he was the guest at a banquet by the city of New York.

Owing to the failure of the host,
Mayor "Jimmy" Walker, to arrive on time, the official dinner started twenty minutes late and was cut off at the fish course to allow the speeches to be broadcast. Three hundred and fifty police and detectives guarded
two thousand diners, but failed to prevent a score of near fights as New Yorkers of all racial origins tried to crash the gate.

although most of them are noncommittal editorially," Mr. Vopicka said yesterday. Mr. Vopicka's stand in regard to the trial has been undecided since, the beginning of the hearings.

Mr. Vopicka, who was prominent in the entertainment of Queen Marie in Chicago, visited the queen while he was in Roumania. "A kind hearted very good friend. I shall never forget Chicago," was the tribute paid
Chicago by the queen Mr. Vopicka

NAB 'HONEYMOON
THIEF' AFTER A
7 YEAR SEARCH

Robert Wells, 32 years old and colored, 3415 South Dearborn street, classified as the detective bureau as the honeymoon thief, was locked up last night following his arrest in the Northwestern station.

Why is he known as the honeymoon thief? "Because," detectives said, "he has an unerring eye for picking out couples on their honeymoon. And for seven years he has been his favorite victim. He would wait until they put down their bags and then would steal them. We have been looking for him since 1921, but we could never get him until tonight."

Wells was arrested, according to the police, just after he had slipped up and taken the bag of Miss Leona Helmich of Madison, Wis., who was on her way to meet her fiancé.

M'NEILL TAKES REINS AS KING'S AID IN IRELAND

Healy Sees Friendly
British Relations.

BY HUGH CURRAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Feb. 1.—Tim Healy, retiring governor general of the Irish Free State, today vacated his office when James McNeill, former high commissioner in London, was sworn in as his successor.

Mr. Healy, in an interview, described his feeling as that of a schoolboy released on a holiday. He denied anxety for himself during the term of office, although during the civil war he said he expected to be shot. He pointed out that the Free State's position since the imperial conference had vastly changed, as all the dominions now approach the king directly without interposition of the imperial cabinet.

"That is the biggest change in British politics since William III. established the cabinet government," he said.
"Improvements march slowly. It took two centuries to revoke the penal laws and another century to get universal suffrage and to abolish landlordism.
The notion of full freedom can be entertained only by those receiving funds from America, whose donors retain a Victorian mentality."

The future relations with Great Britain, Mr. Healy prophesied, would be friendly and noncontentious. Second class men, like Eamon de Valera, he said, might attain power and cause trouble, but the British regard-ments on the other side of the border and that the Big Bertha at Holyhead could better Dublin in half an hour.

England is the best market for Irish produce, he said.
Mr. Healy said he was greatly impressed with the reception of President William T. Cosgrave in America.

Mrs. C. H. Stoddard, Wife of Magazine Man, Dies

Mrs. Mary J. Stoddard, wife of C. H.
Stoddard, western director of the Drexel publications, died yesterday morning at the family residence, 424 Drexel boulevard. Mrs. Stoddard was born at Arlington, Mass., where her family had resided since early colonial days. She and Mr. Stoddard were married in 1878 in New York where they lived until 1884 when they moved to Chicago. Mrs. Stoddard was a member of the Mayflower society, the
D. A. R., the Colony of New England
Women, and the Friendly Aid society of Chicago.

B. F. LEWIS SR., PUBLISHER, DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Benjamin Franklin Lewis Sr., formerly of the Manhattan Opera company, publisher of the Chicago Tribune,
died yesterday in California.

Mr. Lewis, 88 years old, was born in New York. He was publisher of the Chicago Tribune for many years. He died at his home in California.

Quart of Water
Cleans Kidneys

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness, that often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache
in the kidneys, or your back hurts,
begin drinking a quart of water each day. It also gets about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast,
and in a few days your kidneys
may act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus giving relief bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithiawater drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications.

STOP BAD BREATH

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath
by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver,
stimulating them to natural action,
clearing the blood and gently purifying
the entire system. They do this without dangerous calomel doses without any of the bad after effects.

Olive Tablets bring no gripping, pain
or any disagreeable effects.
Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.
Take nightly for a week and note the effect. 15c, 30c, 60c. All Druggists.

SENATOR
CANADA FA
LAKES SEHints Mont
O. K. on P

BY GEORGE S.
[Chicago Tribune Photo]
OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 2.—Senator William Laurier McDougall, of the Montreal harbor and member of the Canadian advisory committee on the proposed ocean highway, delivered the Canadian senate today moved all doubt that the port in the hands of the government, is favorable to the project.

The senator's speech, possibility of big Montreal ferrets swinging over in proposed ocean highway, give Chicago an outlet to also was pretty generally Canadian parliamentary indicating a favorable part of the Canadian movement, of which Mr. McDougall is an outstanding and influential in Quebec province, from position to the seaway.

Sees Gain for Montreal. Mr. McDougall told that was his considered opinion of the Montreal harbor and the opinion of the staff of the commission in with shipping "that the best of the port of Montreal is rather than the deepening of the St. Lawrence river. The statistics of the big project offered for the Canadian problems, Mr. McDougall and his colleague, Senator George, for cautioning delay and that the Canadian advisory might not have gone into as thoroughly as it should have the Canadian be available information on detail to enable them to intelligent opinion."

Shipping Men Complain. Senator McDougall, referring to Mr. Graham and shipping men be considered the members of the international commission in 1922, when aided from one end of Canada, as well as through the United States, confederates of grain and other commodities as a result of those they reached the conclusion in the report of the commission is as follows: "As to the economic of the waterways the commission, without considering the possibility of new traffic creating a water route, there exists today a region economically tributary to the great lakes and overseas well as between the same the Atlantic and Pacific volumes of outbound and inland that might reasonably be expected this route sufficient to express involved in its implementation."

Other Investigations. "Other that date other investigations have been made." "In addition to the Montreal, the St. Lawrence river, the quantity of grain which last year reached of $1,000,000 bushels. The last summer the with improved navigation facilities they would grain, an additional through the port of Montreal. As a member of the advisory committee, Mr. McDougall said he would discuss some detail at present."

Insurance Exch. A. Damaged $10,000. Fire of undetermined origin, swept the fifth floor insurance exchange building at Wells and Van Buren streets, gutting the building and the walls and ceiling, and estimated at $10,000.
